

Capital investment at Senmin

Theunis Botha (second from the left) is managing director of Senmin, the Sasolburg-based company in the Chemical Services Limited group where close on R1 billion is being invested in support of the AECI Group's strategic mining chemicals thrust.

"The guar plant was commissioned successfully in 2008, and the remaining four major projects will be completed in 2009," says Theunis. "Given the scale of the investment we have undertaken, this is both a challenging and rewarding time for my project directors and I and we are pleased that all our projects are on track and their business cases remain strong. Our customers will benefit from even better product and service packages once we've commissioned these modern and efficient facilities."

Senmin's project directors (from left): John Cullen, Theunis Botha, Frans Labuschagne, Patrick Dicks, Stephen Foster, Phillip Viviers.

