

We make the link

To take care of our bodies and appearance, we tend to use a variety of personal care products, like cosmetics, creams, oils, shampoos and more. They make us look good and feel great. In most cases, these brands contain ingredients, designed and manufactured by AECI. We have the specialist expertise, product development capacity and manufacturing technology that links a formula of chemistry with the formula for beauty.

As the link between two ends, we create physical bonds that shape new beginnings. From the laboratory to the personal care aisle to the mirror, we are true partners in progress, a catalyst for success that drives economic growth and prosperity.

This is the 'good chemistry' of AECI.

AECI is Africa's leading Specialty Chemicals and Explosives Company. We provide solutions to a wide range of sectors, including mining, construction and primary manufacturing. We have been in business since 1896.

www.aeci.co.za